

A CAMP FULL OF V.I.P.'s

Counselors at The Salvation Army's Camp Wonderland, the Community Service Camp on the shores of Lake Massapoag in Sharon, are approached daily by campers asking "Tell us about this, please?"

Surrounded by the beauties of nature at The Army's 100-acre camp site with plenty of good, wholesome food, sunshine and days crammed with activity, the natural curiosity of all children is heightened by an increased awareness of what goes on around them. A keen interest in learning more about the world in which they live is the natural result.

Program Director Aux. Captain William Longnotes that many children are unaccustomed to the amount of personal attention they receive at Camp Wonderland and respond by demanding more and more attention.

The camp staff, in turn, treats each child as an individual and spends a great deal of time working with each separately or in small groups.

According to Captain Long this gives each youngster a sorely needed boost to his ego and a realization that he, too, is a Very Important Person.

YWCA TO CONDUCT LIP READING COURSE

Those persons with hearing problems of a moderate or severe nature will be pleased to note that a course in Lip Reading and Auditory Training will be conducted at the YWCA starting on September 18. Political Expediency at Town Meeting

V. R. Moreno

For the life of me --- I can't fathom the reason for the big rush to pass the piece of legislation as proposed by Selectman Nardi --- the legislation I am talking about has to do with creating four family monsters on one acre lots --- or three family monsters on very small nine thousand square foot lots. It is without doubt the poorest piece of legislation ever conceived by anyone --- Every public official in this town was asked including the town council to explain exactly what was to be voted on --- and NO ONE COULD! --- ESPECIALLY THE PROPONENT MR. NARDI --- Its purpose was to stop apartment construction in town --- but the language was far from saying so --- the amazing thing is --- that I personally quizzed as many as I possibly could --- at the meeting and to now --- and I have still to find one person or town meeting member who knows what the law is all about ---

NARDI POLITICAL MOVE FLOPS ---

There has never been a more political meeting ever held than at the town meeting the other night --- there was a brash --- cold --- calculated --- drive by Nardi people to pass this piece of legislation and the --- NEED --- the PURPOSE --- the damage caused by the passage be damned ---!!! --- and all this because it is supposed to get him votes ---

NOTE: The importance of the one vote was evidenced at this town meeting when it was announced the by-laws passed by ONE THIRD of ONE VOTE --- and when the vote was taken there was a challenge on a quorum --- the moderator turned a deaf ear --- deliberately --- when the counters were challenged --- again a deaf ear --- this is the type of chicanery that was necessary and used to get their politically conceived legislation passed --- ATTENTION ELLIOT RICHARDSON ---

Governor's Council Will Meet At Eastern States Exposition

The Governor's Council will meet at the Eastern States Exposition on Thursday, September 21, marking its first appearance ever at the big West Springfield event, according to 8th District Governor's Councillor Raymond J. Fontana of Longmeadow.

"This also is the first time the council has come to Western Massachusetts during the past 15 or 20 years," Mr. Fontana said.

Mr. Fontana, who is host councillor, said the council will meet in executive session for the transaction of business in the trustees' room of the Exposition. It will then open the meeting to the public and announce the decisions that were made during the meeting.

Lieutenant Governor Francis W. Sargent will preside over the meeting of the eight-member council.

Although council meetings are normally held on Wednesdays, the date was changed in this case so that the meeting and the presence of the councillors might coincide with Massachusetts Day at the Exposition.

The councillors will participate in the Massachusetts Day parade and will also view the Massachusetts Building on the grounds.

Mr. Fontana said this will be the third away-from-Boston meeting of the council in recent months.

Previously they have met at Plimoth Plantation in Plymouth and at the Topsfield Fair.

"I hope that we do more of this," Mr. Fontana said. "It is beneficial for the Governor's Council to move around the state and conduct its meetings where members may have an opportunity to talk with the people."

Following the day's events at the Exposition, Governor's Councillor and Mrs. Fontana will serve a buffet for the members at their home.

Hammond Asks Citizens To Act Now

WESTFIELD - State Senator George D. Hammond's bill which would take final authority for highway billboard installations away from the state Outdoor Advertising Board and place that authority with the cities and towns has been passed by the Senate, "but now has been maneuvered into the House Ways and Means Committee," the Hampden-Berkshire District legislator said today.

"Thus, again I call upon all interested organizations and individuals to write to their state representatives, expressing support of the billboard control bill, and urging them to take steps to get it out onto the floor for a vote," Senator Hammond said.

"My colleagues in the Senate favored this bill," Senator Hammond said, "knowing it to be in the best interests of the cities and towns who do not want their streets and highways covered with billboards and signs."

Senator Hammond charged that "the strong billboard lobby again is attempting to obstruct the passage of this bill. This lobby has been devious in its opposition from the very beginning, and now they have managed to take a step that they believe will result in the death of the billboard control bill."

"Your legislators are responsive to your wishes, but the people must make those wishes known to them," Senator Hammond said. "I am confident that a flood of letters favoring passage of the billboard control bill will get it on the move again --- and could bring about its passage. This is an important piece of legislation, and I hope the people will let their representatives know of their feelings."

Senator Hammond's bill would prevent the Outdoor Advertising Board from granting a permit for the erection of a billboard or sign without the prior approval of the city or town in which the billboard is to be erected. At the present time the state board may grant the permit over the objections of local officials, "and this is most often the case," Senator Hammond said.

A PROBLEM A DAY

By R. J. Allen

Twelve women met at their club for a session of bridge, and there was a great exchange of kissing. If each woman kissed all the other women, how many kisses were exchanged in all?
